Pfeiffer Intermediate School will be hosting a special Social Media Awareness Night to discuss the pressures of social media. Students feel such a need to be active in the social media world. The need for "likes" online does affect their self-esteem. Social Media has a way about presenting the best or worst in everyone.

Childcare will be available in the LRC for parents that would like to attend the event.

Social Media Awareness will be presented by Akron Children's Hospital's Community Education Program Leader, Melissa McClain. Melissa offers social and emotional learning curriculum that includes preschool-12th grade classroom options. She also provides psychological trauma education for teachers and other school professionals.
